DEVOTION - FREEDOM FROM FALSE GUILT

"The sorrow that is according to the will of God produces a repentance without regret, leading to salvation." 2 Corinthisan 7:10

If God is so gracious toward us, why does a feeling of guilt continue to plague so many believers? From where do the feelings of condemnation originate?

If you are experiencing random feelings of judgment that have no real basis in your life, understand that they may be coming from false beliefs about God or yourself. You know these are feelings of false built because they continually bombard, imprison, and depress you rather than leading you to repentance and freedom.

But understand, Jesus is not in the business of making you feel guilty, rather, He is working to clean up your life so you will no longer have to wrestle with shame and unworthiness. So if you would like to be free from the false feelings of condemnation that hold you captive, you must accept one very important fact: Jesus has already forgiven you; therefore, you are accepted by God forever. You must take it to heart that He knows your life from beginning to end -- every trial and triumph, every fear and failure, every stumble and every success -- and He accepts you completely for eternity. Don't fight it. Let Him set you free.

God's Purpose for Your Life

Jesus, if there is any sin in me, reveal it so I can repent. I receive Your forgiveness and love. Amen.
